Team,

The attached memorandum provides Departmental guidance concerning the DoD civilian employee furloughs that begin on July 8th, 2013. The memo reiterates the "rules" of the furlough for civilian employees and supervisors and that the use of borrowed military manpower and/or contractors to compensate for furloughed employees is not permitted. I realize that furloughs will be disruptive to your personal and professional lives, and they will negatively affect productivity and morale. I appreciate all that you are doing and will be doing to minimize the harm to our mission during this difficult time.

Please carefully read the attached memo. I want to emphasize a few key points in the memo:

--Employees on furlough cannot perform work during the furlough period.
--Employees on furlough cannot communicate by Blackberry, computers or other mobile devices.
--Employees subject to the furlough cannot be required to work beyond their regularly scheduled and compensated times on non-furlough days to make up for lost work as result of the furlough -- Employees who are not in a furlough status and in a pay status cannot perform work beyond their regularly scheduled hours to compensate for the workload/productivity loss of those who are in furlough status.
--Educators on furlough days cannot communicate with their students or parents about school matters. The principal will ensure that parents and students have a point of contact in the event of an emergency or other compelling need.

Please ensure maximum distribution of this memo.

Thank you, again, for your patience and support during this difficult and challenging period.

MEMORANDUM FOR: SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Civilian Furloughs and Total Force Management

Reference: (a) Secretary of Defense Memorandum, “Furloughs”, dated 14 May 2013

The Secretary of Defense, per reference (a), directed civilian furloughs beginning July 8, 2013. Reference (a) also provided for certain exceptions to the civilian furloughs to minimize adverse effects on mission. This memorandum provides additional guidance related to the Total Force of active and reserve military, civilians, and contracted support during the time-period of civilian furloughs.

While civilian furloughs will undoubtedly disrupt the mission and have a negative impact on productivity, it has been determined that the risk associated with that workload loss, while unavoidable, is acceptable. On furlough days, furloughed civilians are not authorized to perform official duties at their permanent or temporary duty station, at home, or at an alternate site, including communicating by BlackBerry or other mobile device. In addition, civilian personnel subject to furlough shall not be required to work beyond their regularly scheduled and compensated times on non-furlough days to make up for work lost as a result of furlough, nor shall employees in pay status perform work beyond their regularly scheduled hours to compensate for the workload/productivity loss of those who are in furlough status.

Accordingly, Component heads, installation commanders, and line managers shall take steps to manage workload, but must ensure that borrowed military manpower is not used to compensate for work resulting from a civilian furlough. To do so would be inconsistent with the Secretary’s intent and the Department’s commitment to protect the viability of the All-Volunteer Force.

Additionally, in accordance with the Department’s statutory requirements, contractors are prohibited from being assigned or permitted to perform additional work or duties to compensate for the workload/productivity loss resulting from the civilian furlough.

To protect against further harm to morale and productivity – which the Secretary of Defense warned against - compliance with the above is critical. Please ensure maximum distribution of this memorandum throughout your organization.
