

IN THEIR WORDS

DoDEA Students and Foreign Relations

Our schoolchildren in Germany and elsewhere throughout the world are themselves representatives of our country – ambassadors for what the United States stands for. Academics is crucial to establish in the relationship that we need with those countries in the future. It's not all ambassadors and diplomats who affect those relationships. It's also each American and especially our schoolchildren. ”

Robert Kimmitt

US Ambassador to Germany (1991 - 1993)

2015 DoDEA Interview

