A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

Introduction

The primary purpose of Social Studies is to help young people develop the ability to make informed and reasoned decisions for the public good as citizens of a culturally diverse, democratic society in an interdependent world.

The mission of Social Studies in the Department of Defense Education Activity (DoDEA) is educating civically competent young people who are knowledgeable, skillful, and committed to sustaining and improving our democratic way of life, as active members of a global community and as engaged participants in public life. Civic competence rests on a commitment to democratic values, and requires that citizens have the ability to use their knowledge about their community, nation, and world; to apply inquiry processes; and to employ skills of data collection and analysis, collaboration, decision-making, and problem-solving.

Social Studies promotes civic competence as well as college and career readiness through the integrated study of the social sciences and humanities. Within the school program, Social Studies provides coordinated, systematic study that draws upon such disciplines as anthropology, archaeology, economics, geography, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology, religion, belief systems, and sociology, as well as upon appropriate content from the humanities, mathematics, and natural sciences (adapted from the National Council for the Social Studies [NCSS] definition of Social Studies). In addition, Social Studies provides opportunities to engage in disciplinary literacy in history and the social sciences.

The military connected students who experience a Social Studies education in a Department of Defense school are prepared for college, career and civic life.

The DoDEA College and Career Standards for Social Studies provide a framework allowing for:

- Students to develop an understanding of concepts and key ideas through inquiry, analysis of primary and secondary source documents, and disciplinary skills and practices.
- Students to be assessed on their understanding of key ideas, conceptual understandings, and Social Studies practices.
- Students to have equity of access to a guaranteed K-12 curriculum incorporating content and practice standards grounded in a cohesive set of themes, key ideas, and concepts.
- Teachers to continue to have decision-making power on incorporating research-based best practices to teach and illustrate key ideas and conceptual understandings to promote student understanding.

Overview

The DoDEA College and Career Ready Standards (CCRS) for Social Studies are anchored in the College and Career Standards for Literacy, the New York State Learning Standards for Social Studies, and The College, Career and Civic Life (C3) Framework for Social Studies. These standards serve as a consistent set of expectations for what students should learn and be able to do, so that we can ensure that every student across the DoDEA is prepared to be an active and engaged citizen who is ready to pursue college or a career.

This document incorporates:

- Learning Standards, Key Ideas, Conceptual Understandings, and sequence of instruction for each grade level and the social studies electives with the exception of Advanced Placement;
- Cross grade level Unifying Themes based primarily on the themes from the NCSS;
- The CCRS Literacy Skills and Social Studies Practices including the skills and habits of mind that should be developed and fostered, using the content for each grade; and
- The College, Career and Civic Life (C3) Framework, notably the Inquiry Arc.

The C3 Framework and the Inquiry Arc

The College, Career, and Civic Life \(C3\) Framework for State Standards in Social Studies was published by the National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS) in September 2013. The C3 Framework has three foundations:

- Disciplinary Literacy – emphasizing the foundation of literacy through an integration of the CCRS-H/SS and through unique disciplinary literacies of Social Studies in civics, economics, geography, and history.
- Civic Life – a cornerstone of the DoDEA College and Career Ready Standards for History/Social Studies beginning in Kindergarten and culminating in United States Government: Participation in Government (required for graduation).
- The Inquiry Arc - a set of interlocking and mutually reinforcing ideas that feature the Four Dimensions of Informed Inquiry in Social Studies (p.16)

Dimension 1	Developing questions (student and teacher generated) and planning inquiries
Dimension 2	Applying disciplinary concepts and tools
Dimension 3	Evaluating sources using evidence
Dimension 4	Communicating conclusions and taking informed action

The following graphic illustrates how the components of the DoDEA College and Career Standards in History/Social Studies are integrated:

Important Components

Component	Description
Learning Standards	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The five Learning Standards provide the foundation for the DoDEA College and Career Ready Standards for History/Social Studies<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Standard 1 History of the United States○ Standard 2 History of the World.○ Standard 3 Geography○ Standard 4 Economics○ Standard 5 Civics, Citizenship and Government
Key Ideas	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Key Ideas are aligned to the Learning Standards and represent enduring understandings that should be the focus of teaching and learning for each grade.• Key Ideas are designed to address larger social studies perspectives, trends, and issues.• Each grade level consists of eight to twelve Key Ideas.
Conceptual Understandings	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Conceptual Understandings are more specific statements designed to support each Key Idea.• Each Key Idea consists of approximately two to seven Conceptual Understandings Key Ideas + Conceptual Understandings = Social Studies Concepts for teaching focus
Content Specifications	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Content Specifications typically start with “students will...” and are meant to add clarity and depth to the conceptual understandings.• Content Specifications illuminate the conceptual understandings and provide broad instructional activity ideas.
Social Studies Practices	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The Social Studies Practices represent the social science and historical thinking skills that students should develop throughout their K-12 education in order to be prepared for civic participation, college, and careers.• The Social Studies Practices include:<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Gathering, Interpreting and Using Evidence○ Chronological Reasoning and Causation○ Comparison and Contextualization○ Geographic Reasoning○ Economics and Economic Systems○ Civic Participation○ Utilizing the Tools of Social Science Inquiry○ Disciplinary Literacy
Unifying Themes	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ten unifying themes represent the different lenses that can be applied to the teaching and learning of the Key Ideas and Conceptual Understandings across all grades, K-12.

Learning Standards

Standard 1: History of the United States

- Students will use a variety of intellectual skills to demonstrate their understanding of major ideas, eras, themes, developments, and turning points in the history of the United States.

Standard 2: History of the World

- Students will use a variety of intellectual skills to demonstrate their understanding of major ideas, eras, themes, developments, and turning points in world history and examine the broad sweep of history multiple perspectives.

Standard 3: Geography

- Students will use a variety of intellectual skills to demonstrate their understanding of the geography of the interdependent world in which we live—local, national, and global—including the distribution of people, places, and environments over Earth’s surface.

Standard 4: Economics

- Students will use a variety of intellectual skills to demonstrate their understanding of how the United States and other societies develop economic systems and associated institutions to allocate scarce resources, how major decision-making units function in the United States and other national economies, and how an economy solves the scarcity problem through market and nonmarket mechanisms.

Standard 5: Civics, Citizenship, and Government

- Students will use a variety of intellectual skills to demonstrate their understanding of the necessity for establishing governments; the governmental systems of the United States and other nations; the United States Constitution; the basic civic values of American constitutional democracy; and the roles, rights, and responsibilities of citizenship, including avenues of participation.

Grades 6 - 8

Reading Skills in History and the Social Sciences

Key Ideas and Details

Students will be able to...

1. Cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of primary and secondary sources.
2. Determine the central ideas or information of a primary or secondary source; provide an accurate summary of the source distinct from prior knowledge or opinions.
3. Identify key steps in a text's description of a process related to history/social studies (e.g., how a bill becomes a law, how interest rates are raised or lowered).

Craft and Structure

Students will be able to...

1. Determine the meanings of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including vocabulary specific to domains related to history/social studies.
2. Describe how a text presents information (e.g., sequentially, comparatively, and causally).
3. Identify aspects of a text that reveal an author's point of view or purpose (e.g., loaded language, inclusion or avoidance of particular facts).

Integration of Knowledge and Ideas

Students will be able to...

1. Integrate visual information (e.g., in charts, graphs, photographs, videos, or maps) with other information in print and digital texts.
2. Distinguish between fact, opinion, and reasoned judgment in a text.
3. Analyze the relationship between a primary and secondary source on the same topic.

Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity

Students will be able to...

1. Read and comprehend history/social studies texts in the grades 5-8 text complexity band independently and proficiently.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

Writing Skills in History and the Social Sciences

Text Types and Purposes – Write Arguments Focused on Discipline-Specific Content

Students will be able to...

1. Introduce claims about a topic or issue, acknowledge and distinguish the claims from alternate or opposing claims, and organize the reasons and evidence logically.
2. Support claims with logical reasoning and relevant, accurate data and evidence that demonstrate an understanding of the topic or text, using credible sources.
3. Use words, phrases, and clauses to create cohesion and clarify the relationships between claims, counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.
4. Establish and maintain a formal style.
5. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows and supports the argument presented.

Text Types and Purposes – Write Informative/Explanatory Texts, Including the Narration of Historical Events or Technical Processes.

Students will be able to...

1. Introduce a topic, clearly previewing what is to follow; organize ideas, concepts, and information into broader categories as appropriate to achieving purpose; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., charts, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension.
2. Develop the topic with relevant, well-chosen facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples.
3. Use appropriate and varied transitions to create cohesion and clarify the relationships between ideas and concepts.
4. Use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to inform about or explain the topic.
5. Establish and maintain a formal style and objective tone.
6. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the information or explanation presented.

See note: not applicable as a separate requirement.¹

¹ Students' narrative skills continue to grow in these grades. The Standards require that students be able to incorporate narrative elements effectively into arguments and informative/explanatory texts. In history/social studies, students must be able to incorporate narrative accounts into their analyses of individuals or events of historical importance.

Production and Distribution of Writing

Students will be able to...

1. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
2. With some guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on how well purpose and audience have been addressed.
3. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas clearly and efficiently.

Research to Build and Present Knowledge

Students will be able to...

1. Conduct short research projects to answer a question (including a self-generated question), drawing on several sources and generating additional related, focused questions that allow for multiple avenues of exploration.
2. Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, using search terms effectively; assess the credibility and accuracy of each source; quote or paraphrase the data and conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation.
3. Draw evidence from informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Range of Writing

Students will be able to...

1. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for reflection and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.

See Note²

² Students' narrative skills continue to grow in these grades. The Standards require that students be able to incorporate narrative elements effectively into arguments and informative/explanatory texts. In history/social studies, students must be able to incorporate narrative accounts into their analyses of individuals or events of historical importance.

Speaking and Listening Skills in History and the Social Sciences

Comprehension and Collaboration

Students will be able to...

1. Prepare for and participate effectively in a range of conversations and collaborations with diverse partners, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.
2. Integrate and evaluate information presented in diverse media and formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally.
3. Evaluate a speaker's point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric.

Presentation of Knowledge and Ideas

Students will be able to...

1. Present information, findings, and supporting evidence such that listeners can follow the line of reasoning, and the organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
2. Make strategic use of digital media and visual displays of data to express information and enhance understanding of presentations.
3. Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and communicative tasks, demonstrating command of formal English when indicated or appropriate.

Grade 6: The Eastern Hemisphere

Grade 6 Social Studies is based on the geography and history of the Eastern Hemisphere, including the development of cultures, civilizations, and empires; interactions between societies; and the comparison of trends in government and economics. It also incorporates some elements of other social sciences.

The course begins with an examination of the Eastern Hemisphere today, using geographic skills. This provides the foundation for making connections between the past and the present throughout the course. The remainder of the course is divided into seven Key Ideas that cover a time span from pre-history into the 1300s. Students are provided the opportunity to explore belief systems across time and to examine the foundations of democracy.

Teachers should note that some Key Ideas and Concepts may require extra time or attention. These include Key Ideas 6.3 Early River Valley Civilizations in the Eastern Hemisphere; 6.6 Mediterranean World: Feudal Western Europe, the Byzantine Empire, and the Islamic Caliphates; and 6.7 Interactions across the Eastern Hemisphere.

6.1 PRESENT-DAY EASTERN HEMISPHERE GEOGRAPHY

The diverse geography of the Eastern Hemisphere has influenced human culture and settlement patterns in distinct ways. Human communities in the Eastern Hemisphere have adapted to or modified the physical environment.

Learning Standard: 3: Unifying Theme: GEO

6.1a Maps can be used to represent varied climate zones, landforms, bodies of water, and resources of the Eastern Hemisphere.

6.1b The Eastern Hemisphere can be divided into regions. Regions are areas that share common identifiable characteristics, such as physical, political, economic, or cultural features. Regions within the Eastern Hemisphere include:

- Middle East (North Africa and Southwest Asia)
- Sub-Saharan Africa
- Europe (West, North, South, Central, and Southeast)
- Russia and the Independent States (Russia, Caucasia, Central Asia, the region of Belarus, Moldova, and Ukraine)
- East Asia (People's Republic of China, North Korea, South Korea, Japan, and Taiwan)
- Southeast Asia (Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, Thailand, Myanmar [Burma], Malaysia, Singapore, Indonesia, Brunei, Philippines)
- South Asia (Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan)
- Oceania (Australia, New Zealand, the Pacific)

6.1c The physical environment influences human population distribution, land use, economic activities, and political connections.

- Students will use physical, climate, and vegetation maps in combination with population density, land use, and resource distribution maps in order to discern patterns in human settlement, economic activity, and the relationship to scarcity of resources in the present-day Eastern Hemisphere.
- To understand scale, students will work with maps at a variety of scales so they can compare patterns in population density and land use, economic activity, and political connections across the present-day Eastern Hemisphere, within a region of the Eastern Hemisphere, and in a specific country. In doing so, students will examine maps of the hemisphere, three regions within the present-day Eastern Hemisphere, and one specific country within each region.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

6.1d Issues and problems experienced in the regions of the Eastern Hemisphere have roots in the past.

- Students will examine current political and environmental issues in a region or country of the Eastern Hemisphere being studied.

6.2 THE FIRST HUMANS THROUGH THE NEOLITHIC REVOLUTION IN THE EASTERN HEMISPHERE

The first humans modified their physical environment as well as adapted to their environment.

Learning Standards: 2, 3; Unifying Themes: MOV, TCC, GEO, ECO, TECH

6.2a Human populations that settled along rivers, in rainforests, along coastlines, in deserts, and in mountains made use of the resources and the environment around them in developing distinct ways of life.

6.2b Early peoples in the Eastern Hemisphere are often studied by analyzing artifacts and archaeological features. Archaeologists engage in digs and study artifacts and features in a particular location to gather evidence about a group of people and how they lived at a particular time.

6.2c The Neolithic Revolution was marked by technological advances in agriculture and domestication of animals that allowed people to form semi-sedentary and sedentary settlements.

- Students will explore early human migration patterns and settlements through the use of multiple maps and the examination of various forms of archaeological evidence.
- Students will be introduced to pastoral nomadic peoples as a culture type that existed throughout history.
- Students will compare the use of tools and animals, types of dwellings, art, and social organizations of early peoples, and distinguish between the Paleolithic Age and Neolithic Age.

6.2d Historians use archaeological and other types of evidence to investigate patterns in history and identify turning points. A turning point can be an event, era, and/or development in history that has brought about significant social, cultural, ecological, political, or economic change.

- Students will determine if the Neolithic Revolution is a turning point in world history, using various forms of evidence.

6.3 EARLY RIVER VALLEY CIVILIZATIONS IN THE EASTERN HEMISPHERE (ca. 3500 B.C.E. – ca. 500 B.C.E.)

Complex societies and civilizations developed in the Eastern Hemisphere. Although these complex societies and civilizations have certain defining characteristics in common, each is also known for unique cultural achievements and contributions. Early human communities in the Eastern Hemisphere adapted to and modified the physical environment.

Learning Standards: 2, 3; Unifying Themes: ID, TCC, GEO, SOC

6.3a Humans living together in settlements develop shared customs, beliefs, ideas, and languages that give identity to the group.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

6.3b Complex societies and civilizations share the common characteristics of religion, job specialization, cities, government, language/record keeping system, technology, and social hierarchy. People in Mesopotamia, the Yellow River valley, the Indus River valley, and the Nile River valley developed complex societies and civilizations.

- Students will explore at least two river valley societies and civilizations: one in the Middle East (Mesopotamia or Nile river valley), one in South Asia (Indus River valley), or one in East Asia (Yellow River valley) by examining archaeological and historical evidence to compare and contrast characteristics of these complex societies and civilizations.

6.3c Mesopotamia, Yellow River valley, Indus River valley, and Nile River valley complex societies and civilizations adapted to and modified their environment to meet the needs of their population.

- Students will explore how the selected complex societies and civilizations adapted to and modified their environment to meet their basic needs of food, clothing, and shelter.

6.3d Political and social hierarchies influenced the access that groups and individuals had to power, wealth, and jobs and influenced their roles within a society.

- Students will compare and contrast the gender roles, access to wealth and power, and division of labor within the political and social structures of the selected river valley societies and civilizations.
- Students will examine the unique achievements of each of the selected complex societies and civilizations that served as lasting contributions.

6.4 COMPARATIVE WORLD RELIGIONS (ca. 2000 B.C.E – ca. 630 C.E)

Major religions and belief systems developed in the Eastern Hemisphere. There were important similarities and differences between these belief systems.

Learning Standard: 2; Unifying Themes: ID, SOC

6.4a Civilizations and complex societies developed belief systems and religions that have similar, as well as different, characteristics.

6.4b Belief systems and religions are based on sets of mutually held values.

- Students will study the belief systems of Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Buddhism, Hinduism, and Confucianism by looking at where the belief system originated, when it originated, founder(s) if any, and the major tenets, practices, and sacred writings or holy texts for each. (Note: Although not within this historic period, students may also study Sikhism and other major belief systems at this point.)

6.4c Belief systems and religions often are used to unify groups of people, and may affect social order and gender roles.

- Students will be able to identify similarities and differences across belief systems, including their effect on social order and gender roles.
- Students will explore the influence of various belief systems on contemporary cultures and events.

6.5 COMPARATIVE CLASSICAL CIVILIZATIONS IN THE EASTERN HEMISPHERE (ca. 600 B.C.E. – ca. 500 C.E.)

As complex societies and civilizations change over time, their political and economic structures evolve. A golden age may be indicated when there is an extended period of time that is peaceful, prosperous, and demonstrates great cultural achievements.

Learning Standards: 2, 3, 5; Unifying Themes: ID, TCC, GEO, SOC, GOV, CIV

6.5a Geographic factors influence the development of classical civilizations and their political structures.

- Students will locate the classical civilizations on a map and identify geographic factors that influenced the extent of their boundaries, locate their cities on a map, and identify their political structures.
- Students will compare and contrast the similarities and differences between the Chinese (Qin, Han) and Greco-Roman classical civilizations by examining religion, job specialization, cities, government, language/record keeping system, technology, and social hierarchy.

6.5b Political structures were developed to establish order, to create and enforce laws, and to enable decision making.

- Students will examine the similarities and differences between the political systems of Chinese (Qin, Han) and Greco-Roman (Athens, Sparta, Roman Republic, Roman Empire) classical civilizations.

6.5c A period of peace, prosperity, and cultural achievements may be indicative of a golden age.

- Students will examine evidence related to the Qin, Han, and Greco-Roman (Athens and Roman Empire) civilizations and determine if these civilizations have experienced a golden age.
- Students will examine how cultural achievements of these civilizations have influenced contemporary societies.

6.6 MEDITERRANEAN WORLD: FEUDAL WESTERN EUROPE, THE BYZANTINE EMPIRE, AND THE ISLAMIC CALIPHATES (ca. 600 C.E. – ca. 1450)

The Mediterranean world was reshaped with the fall of the Roman Empire. Three distinct cultural regions developed: feudal Western Europe, the Byzantine Empire, and the Islamic caliphates. These regions interacted with each other and clashed over control of holy lands.

Learning Standards: 2, 3, 4, 5; Unifying Themes: MOV, TCC, GOV, CIV, EXCH

6.6a Overexpansion, corruption, invasions, civil wars, and discord led to the fall of Rome. Feudalism developed in Western Europe in reaction to a need for order and to meet basic needs.

- Students will examine reasons for the fall of the Roman Empire and the development of feudalism in Western Europe, including efforts to restore the empire, the decentralization of political authority, and the role of the Christian Church in providing some measure of central authority.

6.6b The Byzantine Empire preserved elements of the Roman Empire, controlled lands within the Mediterranean basin, and began to develop Orthodox Christianity.

- Students will examine how the Byzantine Empire preserved elements of the Roman Empire by blending Roman traditions with Greek culture, and developed a Christian faith, known as Orthodox Christianity, which united Church and state authority in the person of the emperor.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

6.6c Islam spread within the Mediterranean region from southwest Asia to northern Africa and the Iberian Peninsula.

- Students will examine the Umayyad and Abbasid caliphates, noting how the introduction of Islam changed the societies and cultures each conquered, blending with those societies and cultures and creating dynamic new Islamic societies and cultures.

6.6d Competition and rivalry over religious, economic, and political control over holy lands led to conflict such as the Crusades.

- Students will examine the three distinct cultural regions of the Mediterranean world in terms of their location, the extent of each region at the height of its power, and the political, economic, and social interactions between these regions.
- Students will examine the conflict of the Crusades from three different perspectives: feudal Europe, Byzantine, and Islamic.

6.7 INTERACTIONS ACROSS THE EASTERN HEMISPHERE (ca. 600 C.E. – ca. 1450)

Trade networks promoted the exchange and diffusion of language, belief systems, tools, intellectual ideas, inventions, and diseases.

Learning Standards: 2, 3, 4; Unifying Themes: MOV, TCC, GEO, ECO, TECH, EXCH

6.7a The Silk Roads, the Indian Ocean, and the Trans-Saharan routes formed the major Afro-Eurasian trade networks connecting the East and the West. Ideas, people, technologies, products, and diseases moved along these routes.

- Students will create maps that illustrate items exchanged and ideas spread along the Silk Roads, across the Indian Ocean, and on the Trans-Saharan trade routes.
- Students will examine how the location of resources helped determine the location of trade routes and the economic impact of the exchange of resources.
- Students will study interregional travelers such as Marco Polo, Ibn Battuta, Mansa Musa, and Zheng He and examine why they traveled, the places visited, what was learned, and what was exchanged as a result of their travel.

6.7b The Mongol conquests in Eurasia fostered connections between the East and the West, and the Mongols served as important agents of change and cultural diffusion.

- Students will map the extent of the Mongol Empire at the height of its power.
- Students will examine the methods used by the Mongols to enable them to rule over a diverse population, noting how Mongol rule expanded trade.
- Students will examine the spread of the Black Death (Bubonic Plague) as a result of interregional exchange and its effects on various regions within Afro-Eurasia, using a variety of sources, such as maps, poetry, and other primary source documents.

6.7c Complex societies and civilizations adapted and designed technologies for transportation that allowed them to cross challenging landscapes and move people and goods efficiently.

- Students will examine how various technologies affected trade and exchanges. Some examples are types of ships, including junks and caravels; improvements to ships, such as sails and rudders; navigation tools, such as the compass and astrolabe; and gunpowder.

History of the United States: Grades 7 and 8

In Grades 7 and 8, students will examine the United States through a historical lens. The two-year sequence is arranged chronologically, beginning with the settlement of North America by Native Americans³ and ending with an examination of the United States in the 21st century. Although the courses emphasize the skill of chronological reasoning and causation, the courses also integrate the skills and content from geography, politics, economy, and culture into the study of history.

Grade 7 History of the United States I

Grade 7 Social Studies is arranged chronologically and incorporates geography as well as economic, social, and political trends. The course content is divided into eight Key Ideas, tracing the human experience in the United States from pre-Columbian times until the Civil War, with a focus on the significant people, events, and places. Throughout the course, teachers should help students see connections across time. For example, when examining indentured servitude and slavery, teachers could examine human trafficking, experiences of immigrants and informed action that citizens might take.

Teachers should note that some Key Ideas and Concepts may require extra time or attention. In the grade 7 course, these include Key Ideas 7.2 Colonial Development, 7.4 Historical Development of the Constitution, and 7.8 A Nation Divided.

7.1 NATIVE AMERICANS

The physical environment and natural resources of North America influenced the development of the first human settlements and the culture of Native Americans. Native American societies varied across North America.

Learning Standards: 1, 2; Unifying Themes: ID, MOV, GEO

7.1a Geography and climate influenced the migration and cultural development of Native Americans. Native Americans in North America settled into different regions and developed distinct cultures.

- Students will examine theories of human settlement of the Americas.
- Students will compare and contrast different Native American culture groups of North America, with a focus on the influence geographic factors had on their development.
- Students will examine various groups of Native Americans located within the United States

Note: Teachers may identify different culture groups, noting the role of geography, and utilizing local history.

7.2 COLONIAL DEVELOPMENTS

European exploration of the New World resulted in various interactions with Native Americans and in colonization. The American colonies were established for a variety of reasons and developed differently based on economic, social, and geographic factors. Colonial America had a variety of social structures under which not all people were treated equally.

Learning Standards: 1, 2, 3, 4; Unifying Themes: MOV, GEO, ECO, TECH, EXCH

³ For this document, the term “Native Americans” is used with the understanding that it could say “American Indians.”

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

7.2a Social, economic, and scientific improvements helped European nations launch an Age of Exploration.

- Students will explain the significance of the technological developments and scientific understandings that improved European exploration such as the caravel, magnetic compass, astrolabe, and Mercator projection.
- Students will examine the voyage of Columbus, leading to the Columbian Exchange and the voyages of other explorers such as Champlain, Hudson, and Verrazano.

7.2b Different European groups had varied interactions and relationships with the Native American societies they encountered. Native American societies suffered from loss of life due to disease and conflict and loss of land due to encroachment of European settlers and differing conceptions of property and land ownership.

- Students will compare and contrast British interactions with southern New England Algonquians, Dutch and French interactions with the Algonquians and Iroquoians, and Spanish interactions with Muscogee.
- Students will investigate other Native American societies found in their locality and their interactions with European groups.
- Students will examine the major reasons why Native American societies declined in population and lost land to the Europeans.

7.2c European nations established colonies in North America for economic, religious, and political reasons. Differences in climate, physical features, access to water, and sources of labor contributed to the development of different economies in the New England, Middle, and Southern Colonies.

- Students will investigate the reasons for colonization and the role of geography in the development of each colonial region.
- Students will examine the economic, social, and political characteristics of each colonial region.

7.2d The Dutch established settlements along the Hudson River and the French established settlements in the Champlain Valley. Dutch contributions to American society were long-lasting.

- Students will compare and contrast the early Dutch settlements with French settlements and with those in the subsequent British colony in terms of political, economic, and social characteristics, including an examination of the patroon system.
- Students will examine the changing status and role of African Americans under the Dutch and English colonial systems.
- Student will examine Dutch contributions to American society, including acceptance of a diverse population, a degree of religious toleration and right to petition. Students will examine Dutch relations with Native Americans.

7.2e Over the course of the 17th and 18th centuries, slavery grew in the colonies. Enslaved Africans utilized a variety of strategies to both survive and resist their conditions.

- Students will describe the conditions of the Middle Passage.
- Students will explain why and where slavery grew over time in the United States and students will examine the living conditions of slaves.
- Students will investigate different methods enslaved Africans used to survive and resist their conditions.
- Students will distinguish between indentured servitude and slavery.

7.3 AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE

Growing tensions over political power and economic issues sparked a movement for independence from Great Britain.

Learning Standards: 1, 4, 5; Unifying Themes: TCC, GOV, ECO

7.3a Conflicts between France and Great Britain in the 17th and 18th centuries in North America altered the relationship between the colonies and Great Britain.

- Students will locate battles fought between France and Great Britain during the 17th and 18th centuries, and the important role of the British troops.
- Students will examine how Native Americans attempted to maintain a diplomatic balance between themselves and the French and the English settlers.
- Students will examine the changing economic relationship between the colonies and Great Britain, including mercantilism and the practice of salutary neglect.
- Students will identify the issues stemming from the Zenger Trial that affected the development of individual rights in colonial America.

7.3b Stemming from the French and Indian War, the British government enacted and attempted to enforce new political and economic policies in the colonies. These policies triggered varied colonial responses, including protests and dissent.

- Students will investigate the Albany Congress and the Albany Plan of Union as a plan for colonial unification.
- Students will examine actions taken by the British, including the Proclamation of 1763, the Quartering Act, the Stamp Act, the Tea Act, and the Coercive Acts, and colonial responses to those actions.
- Students will compare British and colonial patriot portrayals of the Boston Massacre, using historical evidence.
- Students will compare the proportions of loyalists and patriots in different regions of the United States colonies.
- Students will examine the events at Lexington and Concord as the triggering events for the Revolutionary War.

7.3c Influenced by Enlightenment ideas and their rights as Englishmen, American colonial leaders outlined their grievances against British policies and actions in the Declaration of Independence.

- Students will examine the influence Enlightenment ideas such as natural rights and social contract and ideas expressed in Thomas Paine's Common Sense had on colonial leaders in their debates on independence.
- Students will examine the Declaration of Independence and the arguments for independence stated within it.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

7.3d The outcome of the American Revolution was influenced by military strategies, geographic considerations, the involvement of the Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) and other Native American groups in the war, and aid from other nations. The Treaty of Paris (1783) established the terms of peace.

- Students will explore the different military strategies used by the Americans and their allies, including various Native American groups, during the American Revolution.
- Students will examine the American victory at the Battle of Saratoga in terms of its effects on American and British morale and on European views on American prospects for victory in the Revolution.
- Students will examine the terms of the Treaty of Paris, determine what boundary was set for the United States, and illustrate this on a map.

7.4 HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION

The newly independent states faced political and economic struggles under the Articles of Confederation. These challenges resulted in a Constitutional Convention, a debate over ratification, and the eventual adoption of the Bill of Rights.

Learning Standards: 1, 5; Unifying Themes: GOV, CIV

7.4a Throughout the American Revolution, the colonies struggled to address their differing social, political, and economic interests and to establish unity. The Articles of Confederation created a form of government that loosely united the states, but allowed states to maintain a large degree of sovereignty.

7.4b The lack of a strong central government under the Articles of Confederation presented numerous challenges. A convention was held to revise the Articles, the result of which was the Constitution. The Constitution established a democratic republic with a stronger central government.

- Students will investigate the successes and failures of the Articles of Confederation, determine why many felt a new plan of government was needed, and explain how the United States Constitution attempted to address the weaknesses of the Articles.
- Students will examine the Constitutions of various states, their main ideas and provisions, and their influence on the formation of the United States Constitution.

7.4c Advocates for and against a strong central government were divided on issues of States rights, role/limits of federal power, and guarantees of individual freedoms. Compromises were needed between the states in order to ratify the Constitution.

- Students will examine from multiple perspectives arguments regarding the balance of power between the federal and state governments, the power of government, and the rights of individuals.
- Students will examine how key issues were resolved during the Constitutional Convention, including:
 - state representation in Congress (Great Compromise or bicameral legislature)
 - the balance of power between the federal and state governments (establishment of the system of federalism)
 - the prevention of parts of government becoming too powerful (the establishment of the three branches)
 - the counting of the enslaved African American community for purposes of congressional representation and taxation (the Three-Fifths Compromise)
- Students will examine the role of Alexander Hamilton, John Jay and James Madison as leading advocates for the new Constitution.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

7.5 THE CONSTITUTION IN PRACTICE

The United States Constitution serves as the foundation of the United States government and outlines the rights of citizens. The Constitution is considered a living document that can respond to political and social changes.

Learning Standards: 1, 5; Unifying Themes: TCC, GOV, CIV

7.5a The Constitution outlined a federalist system of government that shares powers between the federal, state, and local governments.

- Students will identify powers granted to the federal government and examine the language used to grant powers to the states.

7.5b The Constitution established three branches of government as well as a system of checks and balances that guides the relationship between the branches. Individual rights of citizens are addressed in the Bill of Rights.

- Students will compare and contrast the powers granted to Congress, the president, and the Supreme Court by the Constitution.
- Students will examine how checks and balances work by tracing how a bill becomes a law.
- Students will identify the individual rights of citizens that are protected by the Bill of Rights.

7.5c While the Constitution provides a formal process for change through amendments, the Constitution can respond to change in other ways.

- Students will examine the process for amending the constitution.
- Students will examine the evolution of the unwritten constitution, such as Washington's creation of the presidential cabinet and the development of political parties.

7.5d Foreign and domestic disputes tested the strength of the Constitution, particularly the separation of powers, the system of checks and balances, and the issue of States rights. The United States sought to implement isolationism while protecting the Western Hemisphere from European interference.

- Students will examine events of the early nation including Hamilton's economic plan, the Louisiana Purchase, the Supreme Court decision in Marbury v. Madison, and the War of 1812 in terms of testing the strength of the Constitution.
- Students will examine the Monroe Doctrine and its effects on foreign policy.

7.6 WESTWARD EXPANSION

Driven by political and economic motives, the United States expanded its physical boundaries to the Pacific Ocean between 1800 and 1860. This settlement displaced Native Americans as the frontier was pushed westward.

Learning Standards: 1, 3; Unifying Themes: ID, MOV, TCC, GEO

7.6a Some Native Americans who aligned with the British during the American Revolution lost land and were forced to move.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

7.6b Conflict and compromise with foreign nations occurred regarding the physical expansion of the United States during the 19th century. American values and beliefs, such as Manifest Destiny and the need for resources, increased westward expansion and settlement.

- Students will compare and evaluate the ways in which Florida, Texas, and territories from the Mexican Cession were acquired by the United States.

7.6c Westward expansion provided opportunities for some groups while harming others.

- Students will examine the Erie Canal as a gateway to westward expansion that resulted in economic growth for the United States, economic opportunities for Irish immigrants working on its construction, and its use by religious groups, such as the Mormons, to move westward.
- Students will examine the growth of suffrage for white men during Andrew Jackson's administration.
- Students will examine the conditions faced on the Trail of Tears by the Cherokee and the effect that the removal had on their people and culture.
- Students will examine examples of Native American resistance to western encroachment, including the Seminole Wars and Cherokee judicial efforts.
- Students will examine the ways westward movement affected the lives of women and African Americans.
- Students will examine the policies of the United States toward Native Americans at this time, and its efforts to take tribal lands, particularly those of the Oneidas, and exercise jurisdiction over those communities.

7.7 REFORM MOVEMENTS

Social, political, and economic inequalities sparked various reform movements and resistance efforts.

Learning Standards: 1, 5; Unifying Themes: SOC, CIV, GOV

7.7a The Second Great Awakening inspired reform movements.

- Students will investigate examples of early 19th-century reform movements, such as education, prisons, temperance, and mental health care, and examine the circumstances that led to the need for reform.

7.7b Enslaved African Americans resisted slavery in various ways in the 19th century. The abolitionist movement also worked to raise awareness of and generate resistance to the institution of slavery.

- Students will examine ways in which enslaved Africans organized and resisted their conditions.
- Students will explore the efforts of William Lloyd Garrison, Frederick Douglass, and Harriet Tubman to abolish slavery.
- Students will examine the effects of Uncle Tom's Cabin on the public perception of slavery.
- Students will investigate the abolition movement, including the locations of Underground Railroad stations.
- Students will examine the seizure of the ship, La Amistad, carrying enslaved Africans, off the coast of Long Island and the resulting Supreme Court decision in United States v. The Amistad (1841).

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

7.7c Women joined the movements for abolition and temperance and organized to advocate for women's property rights, fair wages, education, and political equality.

- Students will examine the efforts of women to acquire more rights. These women include Sojourner Truth, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Matilda Joslyn Gage, and Susan B. Anthony.
- Students will explain the significance of the Seneca Falls Convention and the Declaration of Sentiments.

7.8 A NATION DIVIDED

Westward expansion, the industrialization of the North, and the increase of slavery in the South contributed to the growth of sectionalism. Constitutional conflicts between advocates of states' rights and supporters of federal power increased tensions in the nation; attempts to compromise ultimately failed to keep the nation together, leading to the Civil War.

Learning Standards: 1, 3, 4; Unifying Themes: TCC, GEO, GOV, ECO

7.8a Early United States industrialization affected different parts of the country in different ways. Regional economic differences and values, as well as different conceptions of the Constitution, laid the basis for tensions between states' rights advocates and supporters of a strong federal government.

- Students will examine regional economic differences as they related to industrialization.

7.8b As the nation expanded geographically, the question of slavery in new territories and states led to increased sectional tensions. Attempts at compromise ended in failure.

- Students will examine attempts at resolving conflicts over whether new territories would permit slavery, including the Missouri Compromise, the Compromise of 1850, and the Kansas-Nebraska Act.
- Students will examine growing sectional tensions, including the decision in Dred Scott v. Sanford (1857) and the founding of the Republican Party.

7.8c Perspectives on the causes of the Civil War varied based on geographic region, but the election of a Republican president was one of the immediate causes for the secession of the Southern states.

- Students will examine both long- and short-term causes of the Civil War.
- Students will identify which states seceded to form the Confederate States of America and will explore the reasons presented for secession. Students will also identify the states that remained in the Union.
- Students will examine the role of the Civil War, including its contributions to the war effort and the controversy over the draft.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

7.8d The course and outcome of the Civil War were influenced by strategic leaders from both the North and South, decisive battles, and military strategy and technology that utilized the region's geography.

- Students will compare the advantages and disadvantages of the North and the South at the outset of the Civil War.
- Students will examine the goals and content of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.
- Students will examine how the use of various technologies affected the conduct and outcome of the Civil War.
- Students will examine the enlistment of freed slaves and how this helped to change the course of the Civil War.
- Students will examine the topography and geographic conditions at Gettysburg and Antietam, and analyze the military strategies employed by the North and the South at Gettysburg or Antietam.

7.8e The Civil War affected human lives, physical infrastructure, economic capacity, and governance of the United States.

- Students will examine the roles of women, civilians, and free African Americans during the Civil War.
- Students will examine the aftermath of the war in terms of destruction, effect on population, and economic capacity by comparing effects of the war on Georgia and other states.
- Students will explain how events of the Civil War led to the establishment of federal supremacy.

History of the United States: Grades 7 and 8

In Grades 7 and 8, students will examine the United States through a historical lens. The two-year sequence is arranged chronologically, beginning with the settlement of North America by Native Americans⁴ and ending with an examination of the United States in the 21st century. Although the courses emphasize the skill of chronological reasoning and causation, the courses also integrate the skills and content from geography, politics, economy, and culture into the study of history.

Grade 8 History of the United States II

Grade 8 Social Studies is arranged chronologically, beginning with Reconstruction and ending at the present, and incorporates geography as well as economic, social and political trends. The course content is divided into nine Key Ideas; the first seven trace the human experience in the United States from Reconstruction to the end of World War II. The last three Key Ideas examine different themes in United States from the post-War period up to the present day, which provides the opportunity to explore contemporary issues.

Teachers should note that some Key Ideas and concepts may require extra time or attention. In the grade 8 course, these include the Key Ideas 8.2 A Changing Society, 8.4 World War I and the Roaring 20s, 8.7 Foreign Policy, and 8.8 Demographic Change.

8.1 RECONSTRUCTION

Regional tensions following the Civil War complicated efforts to heal the nation and to redefine the status of African Americans.

Learning Standards: 1, 4, 5; Unifying Themes: MOV, SOC, CIV, ECO

8.1a Different approaches toward and policies for Reconstruction highlight the challenges faced in reunifying the nation.

- Students will compare and contrast the differences between Reconstruction under Lincoln’s plan, Johnson’s plan, and congressional (Radical) Reconstruction.

8.1b Freed African Americans created new lives for themselves in the absence of slavery. Constitutional amendments and federal legislation sought to expand the rights and protect the citizenship of African Americans.

- Students will examine the Reconstruction amendments (13th, 14th, and 15th) in terms of the rights and protections provided to African Americans.
- Students will examine the Freedmen’s Bureau’s purpose, successes, and the extent of its success.
- Students will examine the effects of the sharecropping system on African Americans.
- Students will examine the reasons for the migration of African Americans to the North.
- Students will examine the rise of African Americans in government.

⁴ For this document, the term “Native Americans” is used with the understanding that it could say “American Indians.”

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

8.1c Federal initiatives begun during Reconstruction were challenged on many levels, leading to negative impacts on the lives of African Americans.

- Students will explore methods used by Southern state governments to affect the lives of African Americans, including the passage of Black Codes, poll taxes, and Jim Crow laws.
- Students will explore the responses of some Southerners to the increased rights of African Americans, noting the development of organizations such as the Ku Klux Klan and White Leagues.
- Students will examine the ways in which the federal government failed to follow up on its promises to freed African Americans.
- Students will examine the effects of the Plessy v. Ferguson ruling.

8.2 A CHANGING SOCIETY

Industrialization and immigration contributed to the urbanization of America. Problems resulting from these changes sparked the Progressive movement and increased calls for reform.

Learning Standards: 1, 2, 4; Unifying Themes: MOV, SOC, TECH, EXCH

8.2a Technological developments changed the modes of production, and access to natural resources facilitated increased industrialization. The demand for labor in urban industrial areas resulted in increased migration from rural areas and a rapid increase in immigration to the United States. Other cities in the United States also experienced growth at this time.

- Students will identify groups of people who moved into urban areas, and examine where they came from and the reasons for their migration into the cities. Students will explore the immigrant experience at Ellis Island and Angel Island.
- Students will compare and contrast immigrant experiences in locations such as ethnic neighborhoods in cities, rural settlements in the Midwest, Chinese communities in the Far West, and Mexican communities in the Southwest.

8.2b Population density, diversity, technologies, and industry in urban areas shaped the social, cultural, and economic lives of people.

- Students will examine the population growth of different cities and the technologies and industries which encouraged this growth.
- Students will examine the living conditions in urban areas with a focus on increasing population density and the effects that this growth had on the social, cultural, and economic lives of people.

8.2c Increased urbanization and industrialization contributed to increasing conflicts over immigration, influenced changes in labor conditions, and led to political corruption.

- Students will examine nativism and anti-immigration policies, including the Chinese Exclusion Act, the Gentlemen's Agreement, and immigration legislation of the 1920s.
- Students will explore the growth and effects of child labor and sweatshops.
- Students will explore the development of political machines, including Boss Tweed and Tammany Hall.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

8.2d In response to shifts in working conditions, laborers organized and employed a variety of strategies in an attempt to improve their conditions.

- Students will examine the goals and tactics of specific labor unions including the Knights of Labor, the American Federation of Labor, and the Industrial Workers of the World.
- Students will examine key labor events including the Haymarket affair, the Pullman Strike and the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union strike.

8.2e Progressive reformers sought to address political and social issues at the local, state, and federal levels of government between 1890 and 1920. These efforts brought renewed attention to women's rights and the suffrage movement and spurred the creation of government reform policies.

- Students will examine the Populist Party as a reform effort by farmers in response to industrialization.
- Students will investigate reformers and muckrakers such as Jane Addams, Florence Kelley, W. E. B. du Bois, Marcus Garvey, Ida Tarbell, Eugene V. Debs, Jacob Riis, Booker T. Washington, and Upton Sinclair. Student investigations should include the key issues in the individual's work and the actions that individual took or recommended to address those issues.
- Students will explore leaders and activities of the temperance and woman's suffrage movements.
- Students will investigate the Triangle Shirtwaist Fire and the legislative response.
- Students will examine state and federal government responses to reform efforts, including the passage of the 17th amendment, child labor and minimum wage laws, antitrust legislation, and food and drug regulations.

8.3 EXPANSION AND IMPERIALISM

Beginning in the second half of the 19th century, economic, political, and cultural factors contributed to a push for westward expansion and more aggressive United States foreign policy.

Learning Standards: 1, 2, 3, 5; Unifying Themes: GEO, GOV, CIV, ECO

8.3a Continued westward expansion contributed to increased conflicts with Native Americans.

- Students will examine the effects of the transcontinental railroad on the movement toward westward expansion.
- Students will examine examples of Native American resistance to the western encroachment, including the Sioux Wars and the flight and surrender of Chief Joseph and the Nez Perce.
- Students will examine United States policies toward Native Americans, such as the displacement of Native Americans from traditional lands, creation of reservations, efforts to assimilate Native Americans through the creation of boarding schools, the Dawes Act, and the Indian Reorganization Act and the Native Americans' various responses to these policies.

8.3b The Spanish-American War contributed to the rise of the United States as an imperial power.

- Students will examine examples of yellow journalism that contributed to United States entry into the Spanish-American War, including the portrayal of the sinking of the USS Maine.
- Students will explain how the events and outcomes of the Spanish-American War contributed to the shift to imperialism in United States foreign policy.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

8.3c Interest in Pacific trade contributed to an increase in United States foreign interactions.

- Students will assess the events surrounding the annexation of Hawaii.
- Students will examine the purpose and effects of the Open Door Policy.

8.3d The Roosevelt Corollary expanded the Monroe Doctrine and increased United States involvement in the affairs of Latin America. This led to resentment of the United States among many in Latin America.

- Students will evaluate the United States actions taken under the Roosevelt Corollary and their effects on relationships between the United States and Latin American nations, including the building of the Panama Canal.

8.4 WORLD WAR I AND THE ROARING TWENTIES

Various diplomatic, economic, and ideological factors contributed to the United States decision to enter World War I. Involvement in the war significantly altered the lives of Americans. Postwar America was characterized by economic prosperity, technological innovations, and changes in the workplace.

Learning Standards: 1, 2, 4; Unifying Themes: SOC, GOV, ECO, TECH

8.4a European militarism, the alliance system, imperialism, and nationalism were all factors that contributed to the start of World War I.

8.4b International, economic, and military developments swayed opinion in favor of the United States siding with the Allies and entering World War I. Domestic responses to World War I limited civil liberties within the United States.

- Students will examine an overview of the causes of World War I, focusing on the factors leading to United States entry into the war.
- Students will examine examples of war propaganda and its effects on support for United States involvement in the war.
- Students will examine the restrictions placed on citizens after United States entry into the war, including the Espionage Act (1917) and the Sedition Act (1918).

8.4c New military technologies changed military strategy in World War I and resulted in an unprecedented number of casualties.

- Students will examine the effects of the changes in military technologies used during World War I, including trench warfare, chemical weapons, machine guns, and aircraft.

8.4d Following extensive political debate, the United States refused to ratify the Treaty of Versailles. The United States then sought to return to prewar policies by focusing on domestic rather than international matters.

- Students will examine Wilson's Fourteen Points and investigate reasons why the United States Senate refused to support the Treaty of Versailles, focusing on opposition to the League of Nations.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

A WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION FOR MILITARY-CONNECTED STUDENTS

8.4e After World War I, the United States entered a period of economic prosperity and cultural change. This period is known as the Roaring Twenties. During this time, new opportunities for women were gained, and African Americans engaged in various efforts to distinguish themselves and celebrate their culture.

- Students will investigate the efforts of women suffragists and explain the historical significance of the 19th amendment.
- Students will examine the reasons for and effects of prohibition on American society.
- Students will examine examples of World War I and postwar race relations, such as the East St. Louis riots, the Silent March, and the Tulsa riots.
- Students will explore the changes in American culture after World War I, including an examination of the Harlem Renaissance.

8.5 GREAT DEPRESSION

Economic and environmental disasters in the 1930s created hardships for many Americans. Amidst much debate about the appropriate role of government, President Franklin D. Roosevelt helped to create intensive government interventions in the United States economy and society.

Learning Standards: 1, 3, 5; Unifying Themes: TCC, SOC, GOV, ECO

8.5a Risky investing, protectionism, and overproduction led to the collapse of the stock market, a wave of bank failures, and a long and severe downturn in the economy called the Great Depression.

- Students will examine how the economic practices of the 1920s contributed to the coming of the Great Depression.

8.5b The Great Depression and the Dust Bowl affected American businesses and families.

- Students will examine the effects of the Great Depression on American families in terms of the loss of jobs, wealth, and homes, noting varying effects based on class, race, and gender. Students will explore the conditions in other communities within the United States during the Great Depression.
- Students will explore the man-made and environmental conditions that led to the Dust Bowl, the economic as well as cultural consequences of the Dust Bowl, and federal government efforts to address the problem.

8.5c President Roosevelt issued the New Deal in an attempt to revive the economy and help Americans deal with the hardships of the Great Depression. These New Deal reforms had a long-lasting effect on the role of government in American society and its economic life, but did not resolve all of the hardships Americans faced.

- Students will identify key programs adopted under the New Deal, including the creation of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the adoption of the Social Security Act.

8.6 WORLD WAR II

The aggression of the Axis powers threatened United States security and led to its entry into World War II. The nature and consequences of warfare during World War II transformed the United States and the global community. The damage from total warfare and atrocities such as the Holocaust led to a call for international efforts to protect human rights and prevent future wars.

Learning Standards: 1, 2, 3; Unifying Themes: TCC, GOV, TECH, EXCH

8.6a Worldwide economic depression, militant nationalism, the rise of totalitarian rule, and the unsuccessful efforts of the League of Nations to preserve peace contributed to the outbreak of war in Europe and Asia.

- Students will examine how the worldwide economic depression and militant nationalism resulted in the rise of totalitarian rule.

8.6b From 1939 to 1941, the United States government tried to maintain neutrality while providing aid to Britain but was drawn into the war by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The United States fought a war on multiple fronts. At home, the economy was converted to war production, and essential resources were rationed to ensure adequate supplies for military use.

- Students will examine American involvement in World War II, including the American strategy in the Pacific and the invasion of Normandy on D-Day.
- Students will examine the role of the Tuskegee Airmen within the segregated military during World War II.
- Students will investigate the effects of the war on the American economy and day-to-day life.
- Students will examine the internment of Japanese Americans in light of perceived national security concerns versus constitutional rights, including the decision in Korematsu v. United States (1944).

8.6c The nature and consequences of warfare during World War II transformed the United States and the global community. The damage from total warfare and human atrocities, including the Holocaust, led to a call for an international organization to prevent future wars and the protection of human rights.

- Students will examine the role of air power by the allies, including the use of the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.
- Students will investigate the Holocaust and explain the historical significance of the Nuremberg trials.
- Students will examine the structure and work of the United Nations.

8.7 FOREIGN POLICY

The period after World War II has been characterized by an ideological and political struggle, first between the United States and communism during the Cold War, then between the United States and forces of instability in the Middle East. Increased economic interdependence and competition, as well as environmental concerns, are challenges faced by the United States.

Learning Standards: 1, 2, 4, 5; Unifying Themes: TCC, GEO, ECO, EXCH

8.7a The Cold War was an ongoing struggle between the two nuclear superpowers, the United States and the Soviet Union. The Cold War shaped the reconstruction of national boundaries and political alliances across the globe.

- Students will locate on a map the nations that were aligned with the United States, those aligned with the Soviet Union, and the non-aligned nations.
- Students will examine the term nuclear superpower and the threat of nuclear weapons as a cause and as an effect of the arms race between the United States and the Soviet Union.

8.7b The United States based its military and diplomatic policies from 1945 to 1990 on a policy of containment of communism.

- Students will examine the policy of containment and its application in the postwar period, including the Marshall Plan, the Korean War, the Cuban missile crisis, and the Vietnam War.

8.7c Following the end of the Cold War, the United States sought to define a new role in global affairs, but the legacies of Cold War actions continue to affect United States foreign policy today.

- Students will examine the changing relationships between the United States and foreign countries such as
 - China beginning in 1950
 - Afghanistan beginning in the 1980s
 - Russia beginning in 1990
 - Middle East (Israel, Palestine, Iran, Kuwait, Iraq)
 - Countries in the Western Hemisphere, focusing on NAFTA, Cuba and Mexico
 - European Union countries

8.7d Terrorist groups not representing any nation entered and reshaped global military and political alliances and conflicts. American foreign and domestic policies responded to terrorism in a variety of ways.

- Students will examine the terrorist attack of September 11, 2001, its effects on national security and the United States responses to it, including the USA Patriot Act, the formation of the Department of Homeland Security, the War on Terror, and military attacks on suspected terrorist locations.

8.7e Increased globalization has led to increased economic interdependence and competition.

- Students will examine the increased economic interdependence in terms of globalization and its impact on the United States workforce.
- Students will examine the roles of multinational corporations and their influence on the world economy.

8.8 DEMOGRAPHIC CHANGE

After World War II, the population of the United States rose sharply as a result of both natural increases and immigration. Population movements have resulted in changes to the American landscape and shifting political power. An aging population is affecting the economy and straining public resources.

Learning Standards: 1, 3, 4, 5; Unifying Themes: ID, GEO, SOC, GOV, ECO

8.8a After World War II, the United States experienced various shifts in population and demographics that resulted in social, political, and economic consequences.

- Students will explore the short-term and long-term effects of the baby boom generation on the economy, including increases in the construction of homes and schools and increased demands on both Social Security and health care.
- Students will examine the effects of suburbanization, including urban decay, suburban growth, and the diminished availability of farmland nationally.
- Students will examine the population shift from the Midwest and northern industrial states to the Sun Belt, including its effect on political power.

8.8b The postwar United States experienced increasing immigration, debates over immigration policy, and an increase in cultural diversity.

- Students will examine migration and immigration trends in the United States such as the increase in Spanish-speaking, South Asian, East Asian, Middle Eastern, and African populations and the contributions of these groups.
- Students will examine the effects of immigration legislation and policy, including recent debates over immigration policy.

8.8c Pollution, population growth, the consumption of natural resources, clearing of land for human sustenance, and large-scale industrialization have put added stress on the global environment.

- Students will explore the effects of pollution, industrialization, and population growth on the environment, including urban areas (Love Canal), plant and animal life (Adirondack Park) and energy sources (Three Mile Island).

COLLEGE AND CAREER READY

8.9 DOMESTIC POLITICS AND REFORM

The civil rights movement and the Great Society were attempts by people and the government to address major social, legal, economic, and environmental problems. Subsequent economic recession called for a new economic program.

Learning Standards: 1, 4, 5; Unifying Themes: TCC, SOC, CIV, ECO

8.9a The civil rights movement began in the postwar era in response to long-standing inequalities in American society, and eventually brought about equality under the law, but slower progress on economic improvements.

- Students will compare and contrast the strategies used by civil rights activists, such as Thurgood Marshall, Rosa Parks, Martin Luther King, Jr., and Malcolm X.
- Students will explain the significance of key civil rights victories, including President Truman's desegregation of the military, Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka (1954), the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and the Voting Rights Act of 1965.
- Students will examine the extent to which the economic situation of African Americans improved as a result of the civil rights movement.

8.9b The civil rights movement prompted renewed efforts for equality by women and other groups.

- Students will examine struggles for equality and factors that enabled or limited success on behalf of women, farm workers, Native Americans, the disabled, and the LGBT community.
- Students will examine judicial actions taken to protect individual rights, such as Miranda v. Arizona (1966) and Tinker v. Des Moines School District (1969).

8.9c The Great Society programs of President Lyndon Johnson strengthened efforts aimed at reducing poverty and providing health care for the elderly, but the Vietnam War drained resources and divided society.

- Students will explain the difference between Medicare and Medicaid.
- Students will examine the connection between the Vietnam War, especially the draft, and the growth of a counterculture and peace movement.

8.9d Economic recession during the 1970s and concerns about the growth and size of the federal government encouraged fiscal conservatives to push for changes in regulation and policy.

- Students will examine President Ronald Reagan's and President George H. W. Bush's cuts to social programs and taxes in an attempt to stimulate the economy.

8.9e Constitutional issues involving the violation of civil liberties and the role of the federal government are a source of debate in American society.

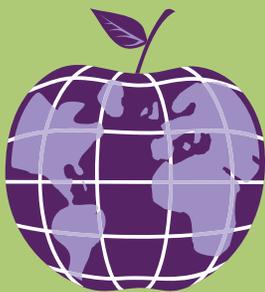

- Students will examine state and federal responses to gun violence, cyber-bullying, and electronic surveillance.
