Letter From The Principal

Dear Samurai Families,

Welcome back to our virtual learning environment! We have received lots of positive feedback as well as some suggestions for improvement. All of the input has been helpful, and we encourage you to keep in contact with your child's teacher. Every teacher has office hours and is available to support you and your child.

Here are a few of the most frequently asked questions:

"I'm worried about screen time. How much time should our young students be spending online?"
Elementary students should spend no more than 1-2 hours a day online for check-ins, announcements, and instruction.

"I'm worried about my child making adequate progress. What are the implications for next year?"
The good news is, the whole world is in the same situation. We know that everyone's life has been turned upside down, and we are here to take care of what we can when we can. We are focused on making the most of the virtual learning experience right now, and we will monitor and adjust when we get to next year.

"I'm having to teach all the content to my child, and I have two other children at home. Where is the direct instruction?"
Teachers are expected to provide frequent live and recorded instruction. All live instructional sessions should be recorded and posted online for students to access anytime. If you are struggling to find these sessions, please contact the teacher directly.

"Where is the differentiation?"
Our teachers were handed a monumental task and told to make it happen within a couple of days. We are continuing to learn and grow and stretch ourselves. Please be patient and gracious, and be assured that teachers are working on differentiation as a next step. You should see results soon, if you did not already see them this week.

"How am I supposed to help all of my children at the same time?"
We hear you. Virtual schooling takes a lot of effort from our parents. In response, our school counselor is setting up a schedule that will allow students to check in with her during the day for help on their assignments.

As we continue in this uncharted territory, we want to thank you for your partnership. The connection between home and school has never been more evident and necessary than it is now. We are glad to be in this together!

Very Respectfully,
Kerry Weidler
