G.2. DEFINITIONS. Unless otherwise noted, these terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this Issuance only.

immunization. Immunization is the process whereby a person is made immune or resistant to an infectious disease by the administration of a vaccine. Vaccines stimulate the body's own immune system to protect the person against subsequent infection or disease.

individualized education program. A written document that is developed, reviewed, and revised at a meeting of the Case Study Committee, identifying the required components of the individualized education program for a child with a disability. The purpose of an IEP is to enable students to successfully develop their potential by providing a free appropriate public education in compliance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act as implemented by Department of Defense Administrative Instruction 1342.12, individualized healthcare plan. Individualized healthcare plan is a written document for individual students with a medical condition that requires nursing interventions during school hours. The plan clearly identifies current health care needs and the best way to manage them. The plan is developed by the nurse through consultation with the primary care provider and parents/guardian/sponsor.

school health services. Research-based services that provide an environment that promotes optimal wellness and safety for all students. Such services include individualized quality health care for students and use available community and school resources to promote an overall healthy lifestyle for students, staff and families.

school nurse. A professional registered nurse with at least a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing, who facilitates positive student responses to normal development; promotes health and safety, including a healthy environment; intervenes with actual and potential health problems; provides case management services; and actively collaborates with others to build student and family capacity for adaption, self-management, self-advocacy and learning.

Section 504 Accommodation Plan. A written plan developed by the 504 Accommodation Team specifying the nature of the student's disability(ies) and the major life activity(ies) it limits, the basis for determining the disability(ies), the educational impact of the disability(ies), the area(s) for 504 Accommodation(s), and the 504 Accommodation strategies and documentation concerning how the student's progress will be determined. Refer to DoDEA Regulation 2500.14.
